

List of medical writing articles written by EMWA members in other journals

A request was made in the EMWA Members Satisfaction Survey conducted in 2008 for The Write Stuff (TWS) to publish a list of medical writing articles written by EMWA members in other journals. Accordingly EMWA members were invited to send citations to articles relevant to medical writing/biomedical publication or on topics of general interest to medical writers which they had published in 2008 and 2009 [TWS 18(1):43]. The following is a list in alphabetical order of the citations received with the names of the EMWA member written in bold. The list was also published in TWS [18(2):146]. Members are requested to send citations to their articles for publication in future issues of TWS and to be added to the list below which will be retained on this website.
