

Because health matters

With around 100,000 employees, sanofi-aventis is one of the world's leading research-based pharmaceutical companies and is No. 1 in Europe. Our core therapeutic areas: cardiovascular disease, thrombosis, oncology, diabetes/metabolic disorders, central nervous system and internal medicine. And to prevent diseases, sanofi-aventis also develops vaccines.

The 10,000 people who work for the sanofi-aventis Group in Germany perform basic research and development, produce active ingredients, and manufacture and market medicinal products. In so doing, we promote Germany as a business location and improve medical care for people everywhere.

The Pharmaceutical Development Department in Frankfurt/Germany has an opening for a initially on a contract limited for 12 months.

Your role

As an integral part of international teams with members located around the world, you will support the clinical development of drug candidates in a broad range of therapeutic indications. Ensure the quality, standards compliance, and timely production of English language regulatory documentation for the initiation and reporting of clinical studies. In addition to contributing hands-on medical writing skills, you will manage the authorship, approval, and QC processes. Senior applicants will also manage the preparation of dossiers supporting marketing applications and act as mentors for junior associates.

Your profile

You have experience in the compilation of all types of English-language regulatory documentation. Have excellent oral and written English skills and have experience expressing medical data accurately and concisely. You are a team player with excellent communication, problem-mediation, and organizational abilities. Meticulous, proactive, deadline orientated, have good MS-word skills, and ideally have experience with e-documentation management systems. You have a life sciences degree, preferably a PhD or MD. Knowledge of German would be an advantage.

What we offer

In addition to a varied and interesting job in a competent and well-established team within an international company, we offer an attractive salary commensurate to your qualifications with an above-average compensation package as well as considerable support for your further professional and personal development.

If you would like to be considered, please send a resume indicating your full career history and current employment details preferably online at www.sanofi-aventis.de/karriere or apply to the address below.
